Dedication

N. G. Woodlief

Because of the love we had for him during the eleven years he was principal; because of the personal interest he took in the students; because of his unfailing belief in the essential goodness of each student; we, the graduating class of 1956, dedicate this annual to our past principal, Needham Gulley Woodlief.

A black and white photograph of a desk. In the upper left, a typewriter is partially visible. In the center, a pen lies on a piece of crumpled paper. To the right, a wooden desk edge is visible. In the foreground, a large sheet of paper is spread out, and a pen is lying on it. The word "ADMINISTRATION" is printed in bold, black, sans-serif capital letters across the middle of the paper.

HISTORY

In the fall of 1952 we finally reached our long-coveted status: Freshmen! We soon found out that high school students didn't cut classes as much as we'd heard, that the lessons were often dull, and that exciting things were few and far between. Still, the novelty of being in high school held its luster all during that year.

Mrs. Jones and Mr. Simmons, the ninth grade homeroom teachers, took us in hand, explained our schedule; and helped us straighten out our conflicts.

Our new Agriculture building was finished that year and the first Agriculture class was largely composed of our boys. That was the year Shelby Stephenson placed second in the F.F.A. County Federation public speaking contest.

We'd always thought we had several good basketball players in our class and were pleased when Mr. Warwick and Mrs. Beddingfield, the coaches, showed their agreement by placing Donna Honeycutt, Mary McGee, Shelby Stephenson, Lewis Sanders and H. L. Sorrell on the basketball teams and Wilson Langdon and Shelby Stephenson on the baseball team.

The Sophomores have often been called the most forgotten and restless class in high school. The novelty of high school has worn off and they have no banquet or play to look forward to. But our class, determined NOT to be forgotten, set out to conquer newer and larger fields. Mary McGee, having proved she COULD play ball, turned her talents to cheerleading, and in the twelfth grade became chief cheerleader. Under the direction of Mrs. Charles Gulley a glee club was organized and several of our class became members. In F.F.A., Shelby Stephenson placed first in the county-wide public speaking contest, a position he was to hold until he graduated. Minnie Hobby, Clara Powell, Bobby McGee, Linwood Johnson, and Janice Ennis were new additions to the basketball teams, while Donna Honeycutt and Lewis Sanders moved up to first string positions. Linwood also made the baseball team that year.

While Shelby was winning county awards, Peggy Byrd won an award in a National typing contest.

That was the year we welcomed Sue Stephenson into our school.

The Junior-Senior Banquet and junior play highlighted our junior year, and because of Mrs. Gulley's help, our banquet was acclaimed the nicest ever with the first after-banquet dance.

J. H. Langdon and Dan Lee made the basketball team that year. Shelby Stephenson was elected vice-president of the F.F.A. Federation, while J. H. Langdon and Linwood Johnson were two of a three-member team winning the dairy cattle judging contest.

In the twelfth grade June Jones and Shirley Higgins were welcome additions to the cheerleading team; and H. L. Sorrell, George Coats, and J. L. Hunt were chosen to play baseball. Lewis Sanders was elected treasurer of the F.F.A. Federation.

Along with the senior homeroom, the senior dignity and privileges, AND Mrs. Fisher, we also inherited from the preceding seniors the headache of financing our trip to New York. It was a touch-and-go affair but the magazine campaign, our annuals, and the senior play pulled us through, enabling us to spend several unforgettable days in New York and Washington.

Our high school days are almost behind us now. Mingled with the joys and laughter have been hard work and tears of frustration, but it's all been so worth-while that we feel no other class has had such a memorable history.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-six, of Cleveland High School, County of Johnston, State of North Carolina, being of sound mind and realizing our imminent departure from this school do hereby devise and bequeath the following articles:

SECTION I

ARTICLE I

To our principal and faculty, our appreciation for their patience and long-suffering during our struggle with learning.

ARTICLE II

To the Juniors, our Senior homeroom, the Senior dignity, and the right to any privileges which you may be able to get.

ARTICLE III

To the Sophomores, our excuses to get out of study hall, whether it be to practice basketball, to work on the paper or to just fool around.

ARTICLE IV

To the Freshman girls, who seem to have a yen for them, the Senior girls leave the Senior boys.

SECTION II

ARTICLE I

Their personal gifts and assets, the Seniors do wish to dispose of as follows:

Shirley Coats leaves her ability to get a ride to school to Doris Mims.

Clara Powell leaves her brilliant blushes to Alene Frances.

Shelby Stephenson leaves his energetic ways and public speaking ability to Silas Matthews in the hope that they will inspire Silas to more activity.

Peggy Byrd bequeaths all the problems she's had with her schoolbus to anyone who gets 134 next year.

Lewis Sanders wills Marvin Williams his ability to miss school one-half of the six weeks and still make excellent grades.

Derle McGee leaves his ability to get along with Mr. Walker to Stacy Byrd.

B. C. Walker leaves his enviable school day of two periods to Glen King who will probably have a full schedule next year.

Betty Jean Pleasant leaves her height to the boys' basketball team--they'll need it next year.

John Langdon leaves his infectious grin to Jean Johnson with the hope that it will make and keep as many friends as it has for John.

Shirley Higgins leaves her long hair to Barbara Ann Barbour in hope that it will keep her neck warm.

Mary Edith McGee wills her datebook to Betty Cooke.

Marvin Jones leaves--to the relief of his teachers.

J. L. Hunt leaves all his girlfriends to Larry Williams on the condition that Larry keep them as happy as J. L. has.

Idelle Stephenson leaves her willingness to speak her opinion about anything, anywhere, anytime to Judy Stephenson in whom such a willingness would be unusual.

Robert Morris leaves his "Jerry Lewis" appearance to Glenn Johnson.

Billy Wells leaves nothing--he needs it all himself!!!

Nadine Stephenson leaves her slow speech to Lou Lee, who gets carried away when talking.

Donna Honeycutt leaves her position as captain of the basketball team to Carolyn Stephenson.

Sheila Higgins leaves his "toni" curls to Glenn Clifton who'll have to let his hair grow out in order to use them.

Minnie Hobby leaves her superlative, Most Beautiful, to Pat King.

June Jones leaves her snapping eyes and ready smile to any Junior girl who can use them as effectively as June has.

Margaret Allen leaves her prompt answers in Economics to Alice Jones.

George Coats leaves his '54 Pontiac to anyone who can put the pieces together.

H. B. Beasley leaves his freckles to Hilda Walton, who needs something to keep her complexion from being perfect.

H. L. Sorrell leaves his height to Thomas Utley so Thomas won't get lost in a crowd.

Dan Lee leaves 5 packs of chewing gum to Gene Coats to pass out each morning to up-coming Senior girls.

Edna Honeycutt leaves her efficiency as an office worker to anyone who can fill her position.

Janice Ennis leaves her studiousness to B. A. Johnson in the hope it will enable him to remain on the ball team.

Edward McLeod leaves his ability to ruffle Mrs. Fisher to Glenwood Stephenson on condition that Glenwood doesn't use it too often.

Wilson Langdon leaves "Thirty Days" to Johnny Stephenson so that Johnny can take Carolyn to the ballgames and be home by ten o'clock.

Sue Honeycutt leaves her headaches with the Senior finances to the treasurer of next year's Senior class.

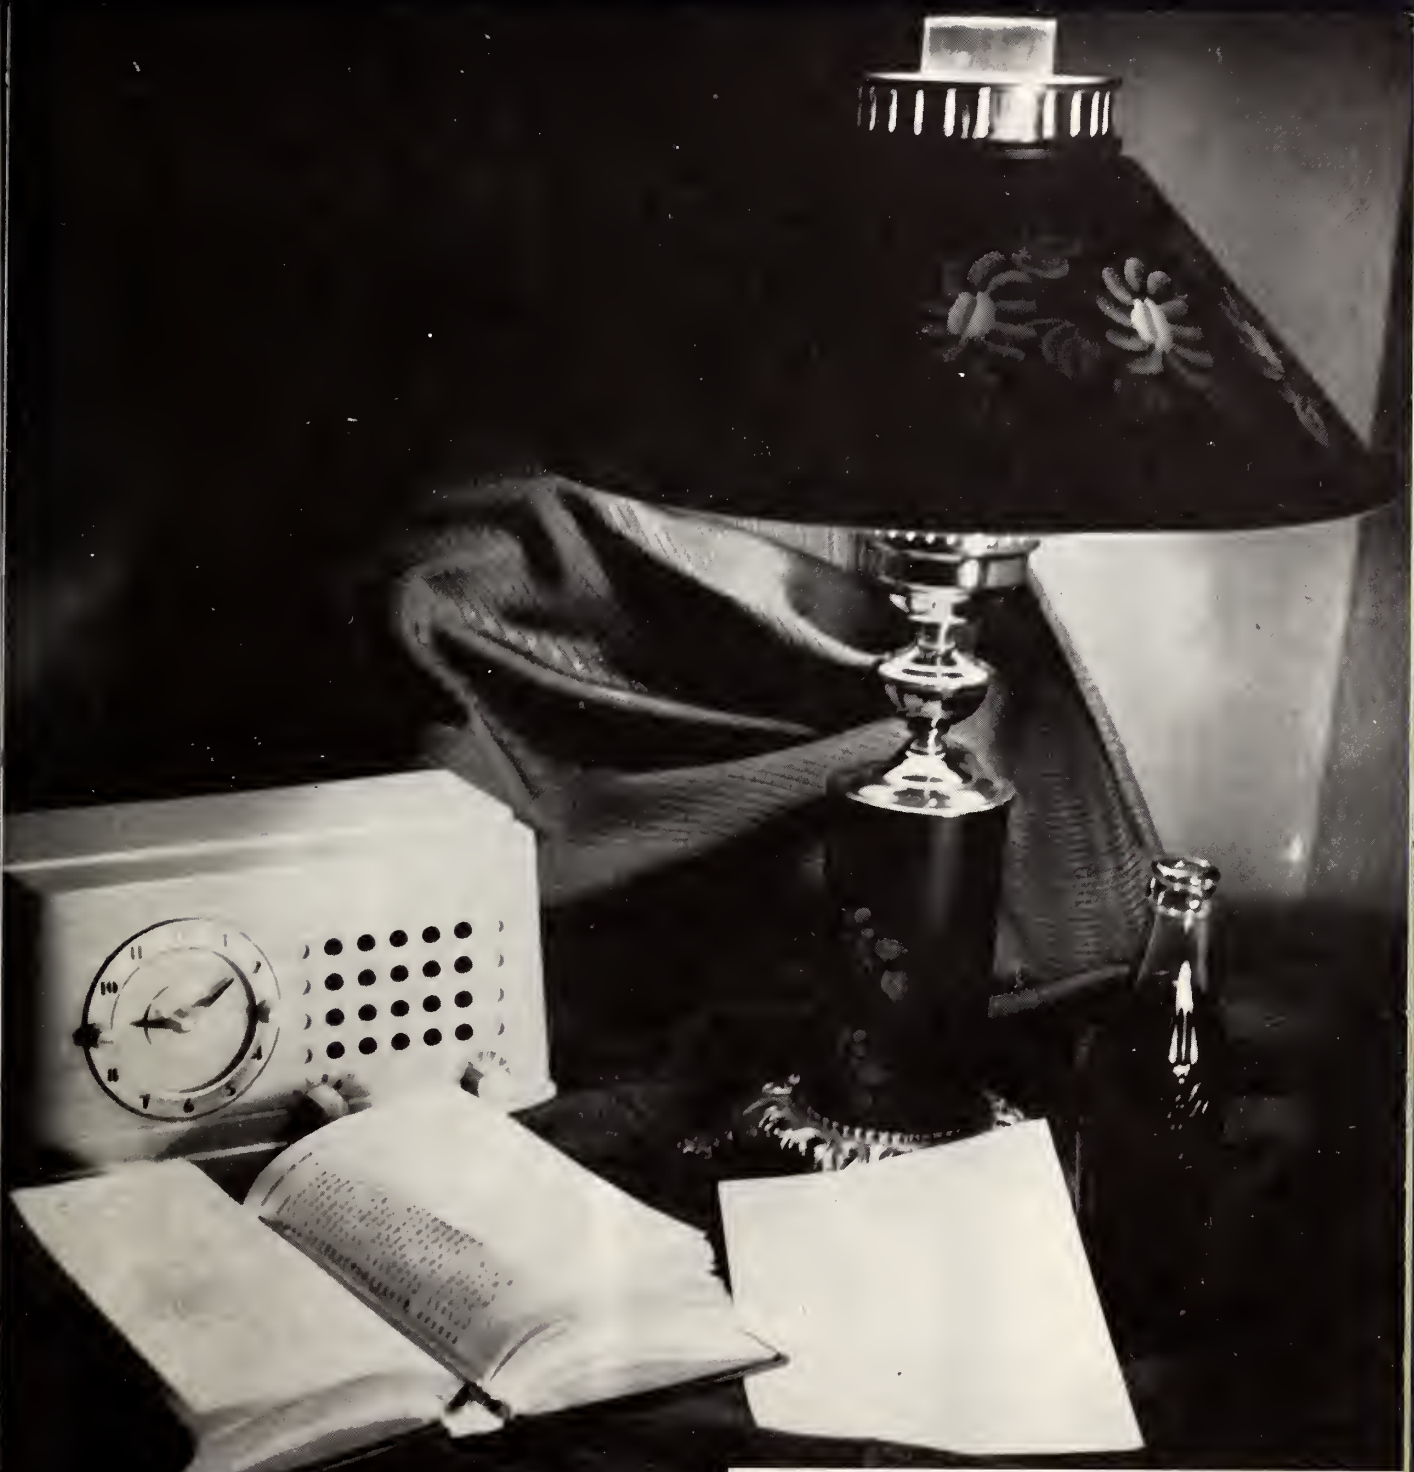

J. H. Langdon leaves his ability to keep a faithful girlfriend to Joseph Buffkin with the advice that Joseph use J. H.'s technique and let the girl do some of the talking.

Margaret Brown leaves all her trials with the mimeograph to the next year's editor of the paper.

Linda Johnson leaves "Maybelline" to Chester Honeycutt, Cronin Byrd, and Glenn Clifton so they'll have a way to the ballgames.

In witness whereof we do set our seal on this, the 28th day of May, 1956.

May the very best of everything
happen to my sweetest concern.
I have enjoyed being in school with you. I hope you will always be happy. I love you!
I love the best. I love you!
I love the best. I love you!

Best of luck
I wish always to a
person of remarkable importance. Remember the importance of 26. I love you!

Best of luck to a very
sweet cousin, always
be as sweet as you are now. Best of luck.

Janis,
May you always
find happiness,
in mind, and good luck wherever you go. I wish you and from all the happiest in the world.

Judy Kay + family

you this year
I have enjoyed
I love you!
I love you!
I love you!

Janice,
 I shall never forget you as
 one of the sweetest girls I know! Always remember our good times
 at school and elsewhere!
 Hope you and Leon get along better, later, than get the present time. May you have much success and happiness in future! Lots of luck to you!
 Love
 Stella Stephenson

Janice,
 Good luck to the
